AUSTIN POP-UP SHOP

On Jan. 22, design-lovers enjoyed a pop-up shopping experience in South Austin featuring rows of curated new and vintage goods. Co-hosted by design experts Audrey Scheck and Claire Brody, along with IDCO Studios' Anastasia Casey, shoppers were able to bring pictures of their space and get onsite styling advice while snagging complimentary drinks and high-quality décor from artwork to furniture and more.

JO'S CHILI COOK-OFF

Austin coffee staple Jo's hosted their 16th annual Chili Cook-Off on Feb. 5, which featured a heated competition between past winners, amateur chefs and top culinary talent from local restaurants. Benefitting nonprofit Free Lunch, guests grooved to live music from Jeff Hughes & Chaparral and the Jo's House Band and bid on fun raffle prizes before the Farm to Chili Goals crew took home first place.

HOUSE OF THE RISING SUN ART, CARS AND COCKTAILS

Mike Mogavero, a luxury specialist with The Agency Austin, hosted a launch party for his private listing at 601 Riley Road in Rollingwood. The stunning property is dubbed "The House of the Rising Sun" due to its majestic morning sky and downtown views. The event featured local artists Court Lurie, Vy Ngo and Karen Maness, as well as exotic vehicles from Hi Tech Motorcars. The estate was built by CapTex Construction with interiors by Arterberry Cooke.
